

23-29
November
2019

CAMPUS This Week

In brief

USIU-Africa Library hosts an Open Journal System Workshop

In celebration of this year's International Open Access Week themed, "Open for whom? Equity in Open Knowledge", the USIU-Africa Library and Information center recently held a training workshop for selected participants to learn more about open access.

Miss University Africa pays President Uhuru Kenyatta courtesy call at State House

On Monday 26 November, the newly crowned Miss University Africa, Peres Odumo visited the State House, where she met H.E President Uhuru Kenyatta, among other high ranking Government officials.

USIU-Africa's cohort of Millennium Fellows graduates

13 undergraduate student leaders successfully graduated from the 2019 Cohort of the Millennium Fellowship Leadership Development Program, organized by United Nations Academic Impact and Millennium Campus Network (MCN).

Did you know: new academic programs and support for student success at USIU-Africa

As an institution, USIU-Africa is committed to ensuring that its students enjoy globally competitive education, in line with its motto, 'Education to take you places'.

How we sort information

We have situations in our lives that keep coming up repeatedly, and you're doing something different.

Media Mentions

Sports Update

50th ANNIVERSARY: A LEGACY OF ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

SOAR TO GREATER HEIGHTS WITH USIU- AFRICA

Apply now for the Spring (January 2020) intake www.usiu.ac.ke/apply

SPEAK UP & END SEXUAL HARASSMENT

*Our lives begin to end the day we become silent about things that matter.

USIU-Africa prohibits all forms of sexual harassment and discrimination. For further information please visit: The Gender Equity and Protection Office, Administrative Block 117/102 or Email: gender@usiu.ac.ke | mediain@usiu.ac.ke Telephone: 0730 118 219

USIU-Africa's cohort of Millennium Fellows graduates

Millennium Fellowship

13 undergraduate student leaders successfully graduated from the 2019 Cohort of the Millennium Fellowship Leadership Development Program, organized by United Nations Academic Impact and Millennium Campus Network (MCN). Continue reading

USIU-Africa Library hosts an Open Journal System Workshop

In celebration of this year's International Open Access Week themed, "Open for whom? Equity in Open Knowledge", the USIU-Africa Library Continue reading

Miss University Africa pays President Uhuru Kenyatta courtesy call at State House

On Monday 26 November, the newly crowned Miss University Africa, Peres Odumo visited the State House, where she met H.E President Uhuru Kenyatta, among other high ranking Government officials.

During the visit, Peres got to interact with various local leaders, in addition to speaking at length about her journey to becoming Miss University Kenya, and her forthcoming trip to South Korea to represent the country at the World Miss University pageant.

The World Miss University is an international beauty contest held annually in Seoul, South Korea since 1986. The event is organized by World Miss University Organizing Committee, headquartered in Manhattan, New York. The event is held to select representatives for the World Miss University Peace Corps, which was created to commemorate the United Nations' resolution to celebrate 1986 as the International Year of Peace.

The Peace Corps representatives work collaboratively in youth empowerment and development in their countries with the aim of achieving societal development goals.